

Student Comments from Class Evaluations:

Micah Bailey is the real deal. This is the type of individual who you want working at or running the university. He can help the most challenged student understand while he also can challenge the more intelligent students to expand their mind and grow. At his current age level I can't even imagine what he will do. He certainly has the potential to contribute more than any other human ever has to the art of teaching. Keep an eye out for him.

I think that Micah was a great teacher. I came into this class not knowing what to expect to learn. All of the topics, however, were very interesting and I learned so much from this class. When I didn't understand something, Micah would do a fantastic job of explaining it. I'm not sure if this is his first time teaching, but if so, he did a great job!

I enjoyed his teaching style, perfect mix of lecture, yet had written prompts on the board. He listened when some of us asked him to bring back short answers on tests/opposed to multiple choice. He made the class accommodating. Focusing on whether we knew the material-not just memorizing the format. I would definitely take another class from Micah.

I really liked the way Micah taught the material. He covered the important aspects of the material thoroughly and clearly, and left out the unnecessary parts included in the book. Would have liked for symbolic logic to be covered.

This is an excellent course and Micah does an outstanding job. His knowledge and teaching ability are an asset to the philosophy department.

This course was well explained by the professor and taught well, always going over examples and problems in class.

Very hard class, but the teacher made it easier to understand.

Thanks for being clear about the materials!

Even though it was a requirement, I really enjoyed this course and the instructor. I would recommend it to anyone.

He was really nice and tried to make it engaging as possible. Also, he was always available to students.

Very good. Knew the material well and taught in an easily understandable manner. Fun to learn from and engaging.

Micah knows the material. He knows the stories behind the philosophies and he comes up with scenarios and executes judgment without bias.
